REPORT OF THE TOWN CLERK.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

I herewith present statement of this office as shown by the books received by me from Charles E. Glover, resigned.

You will observe there have been but two pool table licenses granted where we have four places that should have such licenses. There are also some dog licenses which have not been paid. I regret not being able to close these accounts before the report goes to press, but find it impossible as some of the parties to be consulted are out of town.

February 24, 1912.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Honorable School Committee:

I had hoped to be able to report, this year, many particular lines of work put into operation and very much general progress made. It has been a deep disappointment to me, and perhaps some inconvenience to you, that I should be compelled to leave my duties and give myself up to an attempt to get back into working condition.

While I have not been permitted to carry through many plans which I had in mind, I can, however, say that much progress has actually been made.

This report, written in the city of Atlanta, Ga., many miles away from all my data, must necessarily be very brief and very general in character. Not having access to registers or other records, I can give no statistics of any sort. But the lines along which improvement has been made are as follows:

I. Attendance. I am sure the registers will show a very marked improvement in attendance and especially in regard to tardiness. The number of cases of tardiness has been very greatly reduced. If I am not mistaken, the children of some rooms have gone for several consecutive weeks without a case of tardiness in the room.

II. Equipment. Our text-books were, in many cases, obsolete, and in many other cases almost entirely worn out. New and the most approved texts have been introduced in the following subjects: arithmetic, language, geography and history. These with the new reading material put in last year have enabled us to do work which would have been absolutely impossible under the previous conditions. Especially good work has been done in English.

III. Grading. Each class has been given definite work to do and definite lines have been drawn between the classes. This fact, however, does not preclude the advancement of any particular child as rapidly as his special ability permits.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I. I trust the town will be able this year to further improve the school building at Elkins. I should like to see there a furnace, a new maple floor, modern school desks, slate blackboards, and the walls and ceiling decorated. It would be an advance from the standpoint of school hygiene if the windows on the pupils' right could be boarded up and the light admitted from the left side and the rear only. This would, perhaps, necessitate the making of the left and rear windows somewhat larger. Besides conserving the children's eyes, the need for which needs no argument, this arrangement would give added blackboard space, very much needed in this school.

II. Without casting any reflection upon the teachers who have taught at the Low Plain school, for there has been good work done there, the progress made by the children of this school is in no way comparable with that made by the children of the Colby Hill school. One teacher, with inferior conditions, cannot hope to accomplish as much in the same time as three teachers equally efficient and with superior conditions. With the same quality of teaching the children of a three-room school will make from thirty to fifty per cent. more advancement in the gaining of information and the acquiring of correct habits of work and thought than children of a one-room school. This is obvious from the fact that what real training young children get in school they get from the personal supervision of the teacher. These children have not yet learned how to study and most of what they do by themselves simply builds incorrect habits, or breeds idleness. And it is clear that a teacher who has from six to eight grades in her room can give much less time to any one grade than can the teacher who has only three grades.

I therefore recommend that the Low Plain school be discontinued and that its children be transported to the Colby Hill school.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation of the consideration I have received from your board and of the kindnesses shown me by your individual members.

Mrs. Hall deserves especial thanks both from me and the town for the much time and thought she has given to school matters during my absence.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE W. DICKSON.

REPORT OF CEMETERY COMMISSIONERS.

The work of improvement in our cemeteries has been continued. A number of attractive monuments have been placed and lots graded, according to the suggestion in our last report.

There is much to be done in that part of the yard where the first burials were made.

As far as your commissioners have been able to learn the occupants of unmarked lots, they have placed a numbered stone and made a record of it; any information along this line is welcomed.

There are a few vacant lots in the older part of the cemetery and a few on the lower side of the yard in line with the tomb.

It is necessary that the town take action looking toward the enlargement of the cemetery.

The law requires every town to provide a suitable public cemetery. (Public Statutes, Chapter 51, Section 1.)

The trust fund account for perpetual care has doubled in the past year, seven funds having been added to the list.

You will notice that the prescribed application of income in several instances covers more than one lot.

A large number of towns have provided something in memory of their brave sons who responded to the country's call. A half century has passed since the opening of the Civil War. Is it not time that New London carved every patriot's name in stone or bronze before the last survivor answers to the last roll-call?

Let there be a Soldier's Memorial Fund started and the condition of that fund incorporated in the cemetery report from year to year.

Who will be first with their pledge to this fund? The form of receipt for perpetual care is appended to this report.
